Dinonylnaphthalene disulfonic acid (DNNDS) is a hydrophobic acidic catalyst, commonly available in the form of its barium salt or alcoholic solution. Its main function is to catalyze the crosslinking and curing of amino resins and phenolic resins. It is widely used in the field of baking paints and coatings, promoting the reaction between resins and hydroxyl/carboxyl-containing polymers to improve adhesion. The upstream industry mainly relies on petrochemicals and their derivatives, with key raw materials including naphthalene, nonene, and sulfonating agents. The synthesis of dinonylnaphthalene is a crucial step. In 2025, global sales are projected to be approximately 3100 tons, with an average market price of around US$9650 per ton. The industry's gross profit margin is in the range of 15%–25%.
