Acetylated distarch adipate, is a modified starch derived from plant sources such as maize, tapioca etc. The acetylated distarch adipate is produced by treating the starch with acetic anhydride and adipic anhydride. The starch is modified chemically, physically, or enzymatically to improve the characteristics properties.

SCOPE OF THE REPORT:

This report focuses on the Acetylated Distarch Adipate in global market, especially in North America, Europe and Asia-Pacific, South America, Middle East and Africa. This report categorizes the market based on manufacturers, regions, type and application. Starch is the most functional component in food products and a source of energy in the diet. The global acetylated distarch adipate market is driven by the demand to meet the requirements from the consumer end. The food industry mainly demands acetylated distarch adipate for modifying the texture, viscosity alterations, adhesion, gel formations etc. The growing demand from various food product manufacturers drives the global acetylated distarch adipate market. The native starch does not fulfil the adequate property requirements which in turn boosts the global acetylated distarch adipate market. The acetylated distarch adipate plays a critical role in the technological functionality of products, significantly imparting the enhanced physiochemical properties. The growing industrial applications, is expected to impulse the global acetylated distarch adipate market during the forecast period.

The worldwide market for Acetylated Distarch Adipate is expected to grow at a CAGR of roughly xx% over the next five years, will reach xx million US$ in 2023, from xx million US$ in 2017, according to a new GIR (Global Info Research) study.
