Adhesive-free magnetic flooring is an innovative floor decoration material that abandons the adhesive commonly used in traditional floor installation and instead uses the magnetic properties of the floor material itself for splicing and fixing. This type of floor usually consists of a multi-layer structure, with the bottom layer containing magnetic materials, which can be tightly adsorbed on the pre-laid magnetic substrate or any magnetic surface, thereby achieving a quick and easy installation process. Adhesive-free magnetic flooring not only avoids the release of harmful substances such as formaldehyde caused by the use of glue, but also greatly simplifies the construction process and reduces the installation cost. Its surface layer is usually made of wear-resistant, non-slip, and easy-to-clean polymer materials, which can maintain long-term beauty and practicality. In addition, adhesive-free magnetic flooring also has good detachability, which is convenient for future maintenance and replacement, and meets the high requirements of modern home and office space for environmental protection, convenience and flexibility.
