Abstracts

Alkanolamides are a class of nonionic surfactants that include Monoethanolamide and Diethanolamide chemistries and are commonly used in chemical compounding applications as humectants, conditioners, emulsifiers, wetting agents, thickeners, foam stabilizers, and more. Alkanolamides are typically used in Personal Care Products, cosmetic, and toiletry applications as well as household, institutional and industrial (HI&I) applications in a wide range of products.

Scope of the Report:

This report focuses on the Alkanolamide in global market, especially in North America, Europe and Asia-Pacific, South America, Middle East and Africa. This report categorizes the market based on manufacturers, regions, type and application. Alkanolamide industry has low technology barrier and is labor intensive industry. Currently, there are several producing companies in the world alkanolamide industry. In consumption market, USA and China are the mainly consumption regions due to the bigger demand of downstream applications. In 2016, these two regions occupied 61.42% of the global consumption volume in total.

The major raw materials for alkanolamide are palm oil, coconut oil, ethanolamine, and other auxiliary chemicals. Fluctuations in the price of the upstream product will impact on the production cost of alkanolamide. The production cost of alkanolamide is also an important factor which could impact the price of alkanolamide.

We tend to believe this industry is a rising industry, and the consumption increasing degree will show a smooth growth curve. And the price presents fluctuation according to the economy development status and international competition. Also, there is fluctuation in gross margin.

The worldwide market for Alkanolamide is expected to grow at a CAGR of roughly 1.7% over the next five years, will reach 630 million US$ in 2023, from 570 million US$ in 2017, according to a new GIR (Global Info Research) study.
