Abstracts

The global Asset Securitization market size is expected to reach $ million by 2029, rising at a market growth of % CAGR during the forecast period (2023-2029).

ABS refers to the sale of various contract debts held by creditors such as residential mortgage loans, commercial mortgage loans, auto loans or credit card debts to third-party investors in the form of securities. Investors can collect principal and interest from the debt they hold as a creditor. In short, ABS is an innovative financial service that securitizes fixed assets with future cash flow to improve liquidity.

This report studies the global Asset Securitization demand, key companies, and key regions.
