Abstracts

Astragalus is a herb that's been used in traditional Chinese medicine for millennia. There are thousands of species of the plant, but only two are still commonly used today – Astragalus membranaceus and Astragalus mongholicus.

Astragalus is also known as milkvetch or hu?ng q?. Several cultures have used it traditionally, believing it to promote long life, fight fatigue, reduce allergies and more.

Nowadays, astragalus is still commonly used in supplement form. The root of the plant is powdered and included in various supplements.

This report studies the global Astragalus Supplements production, demand, key manufacturers, and key regions.

This report is a detailed and comprehensive analysis of the world market for Astragalus Supplements, and provides market size (US$ million) and Year-over-Year (YoY) Growth, considering 2021 as the base year. This report explores demand trends and competition, as well as details the characteristics of Astragalus Supplements that contribute to its increasing demand across many markets.

The global Astragalus Supplements market size is expected to reach $ million by 2028, rising at a market growth of % CAGR during the forecast period (2022-2028).

Highlights and key features of the study
