Abstracts

Automatic dependent surveillance — broadcast (ADS-B) is a surveillance technology in which an aircraft determines its position via satellite navigation and periodically broadcasts it, enabling it to be tracked. The information can be received by air traffic control ground stations as a replacement for secondary surveillance radar, as no interrogation signal is needed from the ground. It can also be received by other aircraft to provide situational awareness and allow self-separation.

Scope of the Report:

This report studies the Automatic Dependent Surveillance Broadcast (ADS-B) market status and outlook of Global and major regions, from angles of players, countries, product types and end industries; this report analyzes the top players in global market, and splits the Automatic Dependent Surveillance Broadcast (ADS-B) market by product type and applications/end industries.

Among all types, the ADS-B In segment is projected to grow at the highest CAGR from 2018 to 2023. This growth is mainly driven by additional safety features and situational awareness that ADS-B In provides to aircraft pilots.
