Abstracts

Baby oil is used for massaging babies, which stimulates the production of the feel-good hormone oxytocin and helps in relaxing them. Baby oil is extensively used for massaging the body and hair of babies.

Scope of the Report:

This report focuses on the Baby Oil in global market, especially in North America, Europe and Asia-Pacific, South America, Middle East and Africa. This report categorizes the market based on manufacturers, regions, type and application. The increasing demand for baby oil drives the market. Increase in online retailer, rapid population growth and people preference are key drivers to propel the market. Growing organized retail sector is one of the major trends in the market. The Retail industry, especially in developing countries, is expected to grow rapidly following an increase in the numbers of organized retail outlets such as hypermarkets, supermarkets, and discount stores.

People preference for massage oils is propelling the growth of the market. Parents use a variety of baby care products to aid healthy development in their babies. Among the baby care practices, massaging has become a priority. With the rise in disposable income, consumers tend to purchase high-quality baby oil. However the decline in birth rate is estimated to pose a potential threat to market for baby oil.

The worldwide market for Baby Oil is expected to grow at a CAGR of roughly xx% over the next five years, will reach xx million US$ in 2023, from xx million US$ in 2017, according to a new GIR (Global Info Research) study.
