Abstracts

The global Ballpoint Pen Refills market size is expected to reach $ 815 million by 2032, rising at a market growth of 3.1% CAGR during the forecast period (2026-2032).

In 2025, global ballpoint pen refill production reached approximately 1277 m units, the average price is 500 usd/k units. Ballpoint pen refills are ink cartridges that are used to replace the depleted empty ink in a ballpoint pen. These ref are designed to fit specific ballpoint pen models and provide a seamless and convenient way replenish the ink supply. Ballpoint pen refills typically consist of a cylindrical or metal tube filled with ink. The tube is equipped with a ball at the tip that rolls and dispenses the ink as it applied to paper or other surfaces. The refill is inserted into the pen barrel, replacing the old cartridge and allowing for continued use of the pen.

Market Concentration and Major Players:

Internationally, the ballpoint pen refill market is highly concentrated, primarily in developed countries such as Europe, the US, and Japan. Large manufacturers include SCHMIDT Technology and Newell Brands. Domestically, ballpoint pen refill manufacturers include Chenguang Group and Deli Group.

Manufacturing Process and Market Trends:

The core of the manufacturing process lies in the micron-level precision machining of the pen tip. First, special free-cutting stainless steel wire is cut and stamped to create ink-drawing grooves. Then, high-hardness tungsten carbide beads are embedded into the ball seat to form a precise fit. Subsequently, the ink reservoir shell is injection molded, and after automated filling with special ink and sealing with a tail plug, centrifugal venting and a full-process circular writing test ensure smooth ink flow and no leakage.

Market trends are driven by the impact of paperless technology and environmental regulations. Demand is shifting towards green products such as quick-drying pigment inks, pencil tip-free steel, and biodegradable or recycled plastic shells. The focus of competition is on performance upgrades such as long-lasting smooth writing and drop-proof sealing. At the same time, the manufacturing end is evolving towards highly automated intelligent production lines and the self-sufficiency of domestic core materials in order to ensure a stable supply from the global supply chain and penetrate the mid-to-high-end market.
