Abstracts

A glass bottle preserves the freshness and taste of its contents, while offering that celebratory clink, so it's perfect for beer. An amber glass beer bottle provides 99.9% protection from UV rays, and glass is a great insulator, so it keeps beer colder longer than any other type of single-serve packaging. Scope of the Report:

This report focuses on the Beer Packaging in global market, especially in North America, Europe and Asia-Pacific, South America, Middle East and Africa. This report categorizes the market based on manufacturers, regions, type and application. The growing consumption of craft beer as one of the primary growth factors for the beer packaging market. Consumers are increasingly preferring craft beer brewed by small and independent brewers and the popularity of craft beer is increasing in the US and the European countries. It has been observed that craft breweries accounted for 99% of the operating breweries in regions such as Virginia, Florida, North Carolina, and Texas. The growing demand for craft demand is inducing the establishment of several new small and independent craft brewers across the globe, contributing to the growth of the beer packaging industry.

The Asia-Pacific beer packaging market is primarily driven by changing cultural trends, expanding population, growing urbanization, and rising popularity of beer among the younger population. In a survey, it was reported that around 47% of the millennial population in metropolitan cities of India preferred beer over other alcohol products. Owing to various investments and higher penetration of beer in different regions, this trend for beer in the country is expected to continue and grow. Heineken, an Amsterdam-based company, increased its stake in United Breweries, India's largest beer manufacturer, thereby offering a high growth potential for beer packaging industry in the country.

The worldwide market for Beer Packaging is expected to grow at a CAGR of roughly xx% over the next five years, will reach xx million US$ in 2023, from xx million US$ in 2017, according to a new GIR (Global Info Research) study.
