A boat bottom cleaning service is a professional offering that focuses on the removal of fouling, such as barnacles, algae, slime, and other marine growths, from the underside of boats. This service is essential as biofouling on the boat bottom can increase drag, reduce fuel efficiency, and potentially damage the hull over time. It typically involves the use of specialized tools and techniques, including scraping, brushing, and sometimes the application of environmentally friendly cleaners or biocides, to thoroughly clean the boat's bottom surface and restore its hydrodynamic performance and protect the integrity of the hull, ensuring the boat operates optimally and remains in good condition in aquatic environments.
