Abstracts

A burrito is a dish in Mexican and Tex-Mex cuisine that consists of a flour tortilla with various other ingredients. It is wrapped into a closed-ended cylinder that can be picked up, in contrast to a taco, where the tortilla is simply folded around the fillings. The tortilla is sometimes lightly grilled or steamed to soften it, make it more pliable, and allow it to adhere to itself when wrapped. A wet burrito, however, is covered in sauce and is therefore generally eaten with silverware.

Scope of the Report:

This report focuses on the Burritos in global market, especially in North America, Europe and Asia-Pacific, South America, Middle East and Africa. This report categorizes the market based on manufacturers, regions, type and application. With the growing popularity of Mexican food across the US and the expanding Hispanic population base, the Mexican burritos market will witness considerable growth. Consumers are increasingly demanding for Mexican foods and foods with fresh ingredients and exotic flavors. It has been observed in 2011, the Hispanic population accounted for about 16% of the total population in the US and this increased to 17% by 2015. This will further increase the demand for Latin American foods such as burritos. Large food service chains in the US such as Yum! Brands (Taco Bell) and Chipotle Mexican Grill already offer Mexican and Western food. This, coupled with the growing number of Western and fast-food service restaurants in the developing countries will subsequently fuel the growth of the burritos market in the coming years. The Americas is estimated to be the major revenue contributor to the burritos market owing to the improved living standards and the rising number of middle-class families. Owing to their hectic lifestyles, consumers in this region have limited time for at-home meal preparation and prefer to consume products such as burritos as a fulfilling meal replacement option.

The worldwide market for Burritos is expected to grow at a CAGR of roughly xx% over the next five years, will reach xx million US$ in 2023, from xx million US$ in 2017, according to a new GIR (Global Info Research) study.
