Abstracts

According to our (Global Info Research) latest study, the global Business Travel market size was valued at USD 1216220 million in 2023 and is forecast to a readjusted size of USD 1514010 million by 2030 with a CAGR of 3.2% during review period.

Business travel refers to domestic or international trips made by an employee for several business-related purposes, including the organization of trade shows, marketing of the company, product launches, and internal meetings. Tourism is one of the major sources of revenue for a number of countries and has a positive impact on the economy of both the source and host countries. The tourism industry has experienced a high growth in the last six decades, especially in regions like Europe that host a large number of international travelers on short breaks. Tourists usually have high budgets and a preference for good food and luxury accommodations. However, these preferences may differ from one tourist to another. For instance, some tourists prefer simple beach vacations, while others want family-oriented holidays at quieter resorts, uncommercialized places, or niche market-targeted destination hotels.

In 2022, the gradual relaxation of epidemic prevention and control measures around the world will have a positive impact on the rapid recovery of the tourism industry. According to data from the World Tourism Organization, the number of global travelers exceeded 900 million in 2022, a two-fold increase compared to 2021. In 2022, international tourism revenue returned to the US$ 1 trillion, a real increase of 50% compared with 2021. According to data from the Ministry of Culture and Tourism of China, in 2022, the total number of domestic tourists was ? 2.53 billion, and the domestic tourism revenue (total tourism consumption) was ? 2 trillion.
