Abstracts

According to our (Global Info Research) latest study, the global Breather Membrane market size was valued at USD 143 million in 2023 and is forecast to a readjusted size of USD 202.1 million by 2030 with a CAGR of 5.1% during review period.

A breather membrane is a thin sheet of fabric that sits above insulation and rafters, but underneath the roof slates. The construction of the fabric allows any condensation to rise up into the roof void but prevents the condensing water from dripping back down into your roof. Instead, it channels the water down into the gutter, preventing many problems.

Breathable membranes for walls tend to be of a generally lower specification than those used within roofs due to the nature of the application. Normally a roof breather would also be suitable as a high specification wall breather, but a wall breather would almost certainly not be suitable for use in a roof.

The Global Info Research report includes an overview of the development of the Breather Membrane industry chain, the market status of Roofing (Waterproofing Membrane, Metallic Membrane), Wall (Waterproofing Membrane, Metallic Membrane), and key enterprises in developed and developing market, and analysed the cutting-edge technology, patent, hot applications and market trends of Breather Membrane.

Regionally, the report analyzes the Breather Membrane markets in key regions. North America and Europe are experiencing steady growth, driven by government initiatives and increasing consumer awareness.
