A power cable is a combination of a single or multiple electrical conductors that are held together with a complete covering of insulator. These power cables are used to insulate it from the outer environment.

Scope of the Report:

This report focuses on the Cable Accessories in global market, especially in North America, Europe and Asia-Pacific, South America, Middle East and Africa. This report categorizes the market based on manufacturers, regions, type and application. Global cable & accessories market is expected to grow at a sizable CAGR in the forecast period. Key drivers for this market are the burgeoning demand for renewable energy, rapid industrialization and urbanization, globally thriving HVDC projects, and government aids and initiatives to expand and upgrade the existing T&D infrastructure. Upsurge in power capacity on a world scale, offshore wind policies in developing countries, replacement of conventional grids by 'Smart Grids' and upgradation of infrastructure in emerging markets will open new avenues for this market on the forecast horizon. On the other hand, limited funds, complex planning and authorization of projects and the consequent delays in their implementation, steeply priced raw materials, and easily available inexpensive products in grey markets are challenging market growth. Shortage of technical expertise for employing HV projects is also hindering market growth.

The APAC is the highest revenue contributing region in the cable accessories market and accounted for around 42% of the overall market revenue in 2015. The demand for electric power is high in this region due to the growth in the electricity consuming sectors. The increase in private participation in the power T&D market has resulted in massive investments in the T&D networks in the region, which will augment the growth prospects for the cable accessories market.

The worldwide market for Cable Accessories is expected to grow at a CAGR of roughly xx% over the next five years, will reach xx million US$ in 2023, from xx million US$ in 2017, according to a new GIR (Global Info Research) study.
