Abstracts

A candle is an ignitable wick embedded in wax, or another flammable solid substance such as tallow, that provides light, and in some cases, a fragrance. A candle can also provide heat, or be used as a method of keeping time.

SCOPE OF THE REPORT:

This report focuses on the Candles in global market, especially in North America, Europe and Asia-Pacific, South America, Middle East and Africa. This report categorizes the market based on manufacturers, regions, type and application. Consumers are increasingly purchasing candles for their home decor, and for aromatherapy-like stress reduction and relaxation. The ease of purchase as well as the availability of various type of candles on multiple distribution channels is prompting more and more people to purchase these products. Proliferation in the number of distribution channels has benefited the sales through department, mass merchandise retailers and home decor stores. Supermarkets and hypermarkets are benefiting due to their discounted prices and various offers particularly attracting more and more buyers. The popularity of e-commerce has significantly increased candles sales. The ease of purchase as well as the availability of extensive information and reviews on products online is prompting more and more individuals to buy these products.

The worldwide market for Candles is expected to grow at a CAGR of roughly 4.6% over the next five years, will reach 10200 million US$ in 2023, from 7830 million US$ in 2017, according to a new GIR (Global Info Research) study.
