Cannabis-based wine refers to a type of alcoholic beverage infused with cannabinoids, such as THC or CBD, derived from cannabis plants. This innovative product combines traditional wine-making techniques with cannabis extracts to create a unique beverage that offers both the flavor and effects of wine and the potential benefits of cannabis. Cannabis-based wines come in various formulations, including those with different cannabinoid concentrations and flavor profiles. These wines are crafted to provide a novel drinking experience, appealing to consumers interested in exploring the intersection of cannabis and traditional alcoholic beverages.

The global cannabis-based wine market is driven by the increasing legalization of cannabis in various countries.
