Abstracts

Carbon fibers are fibers composed mostly of carbon atoms and have a diameter of about 3-15 micrometers. The carbon atoms are bonded together in crystals, which are aligned parallel to the long axis of the fiber. This alignment gives the fiber a high strength-to-volume ratio. Prepregs are materials consisting of reinforcing fibers that are pre-impregnated with thermoset and thermoplastic resins. These products are cured under high temperature and pressure and have properties that can be useful for a wide range of applications.

Scope of the Report:

This report focuses on the Carbon Fiber Prepreg in global market, especially in North America, Europe and Asia-Pacific, South America, Middle East and Africa. This report categorizes the market based on manufacturers, regions, type and application.

The aerospace & defense segment is leading the carbon fiber prepreg market, in terms of value and volume. Carbon fiber prepregs are lightweight and offer resistance to moisture, chemicals, and corrosion. They exhibit increased operational stability at high temperatures in comparison to materials made of other conventional materials, such as thermoset composites and metallic alloys. As such, carbon fiber prepregs are being increasingly used in the aerospace & defense industry.

The North America carbon fiber prepreg market is projected to grow at the highest CAGR during the forecast period, 2018 to 2023. Increasing demand for carbon fiber prepregs from the aerospace & defense and automotive industries of the region is fueling the growth of the North America carbon fiber prepreg market.

The worldwide market for Carbon Fiber Prepreg is expected to grow at a CAGR of roughly xx% over the next five years, will reach xx million US$ in 2023, from xx million
