Abstracts

Champagne is a variety of sparkling (or carbonated) wine produced in the Champagne region of France. Champagne is typically produced from a few specific varieties of grapes, including Pinot noir, Chardonnay and Pinot Meunier. Although these grapes are not all white, champagne is typically a white wine due to extraction methods that minimize contact between the juice and skin.

Scope of the Report:

This report focuses on the Champagne in global market, especially in North America, Europe and Asia-Pacific, South America, Middle East and Africa. This report categorizes the market based on manufacturers, regions, type and application. Globally, the Champagne industry market is not that concentrated as the manufacturing technology of Champagne is relatively much more mature. But some enterprises, like Moët & Chandon, Nicolas Feuillatte, Veuve Clicquot, are still well-known for the wonderful performance of their Champagne and related services. At the same time, France is remarkable in the global Champagne industry because of their market share and technology status of Champagne.

The worldwide market for Champagne is expected to grow at a CAGR of roughly xx% over the next five years, will reach xx million US$ in 2023, from xx million US$ in 2017, according to a new GIR (Global Info Research) study.
