Scope of the Report

This report focuses on the Clinical Trial Supplies in global market, especially in North America, Europe and Asia-Pacific, South America, Middle East and Africa. This report categorizes the market based on manufacturers, regions, type and application.

Therapeutic areas, included in the clinical trial supplies market are oncology, cardiovascular diseases, respiratory diseases, CNS and mental disorders, dermatology disorders, blood disorders, infectious diseases, and others. The oncology segment is expected to account for the largest share of the global clinical trial supplies market in 2017. Increase in cancer incidences and government funding for cancer research are factors driving the growth of this market.

Based on regions, the global clinical trial supplies market is segmented into North America, Europe, Asia-Pacific, and the Rest of the World (RoW). North America is expected to account for the largest share of the market during the forecast period. Growth in this regional segment is driven by factors such as rising prevalence of chronic diseases, growing number of clinical trials, and the increasing number of life sciences research activities in North America.

The worldwide market for Clinical Trial Supplies is expected to grow at a CAGR of roughly 7.1% over the next five years, will reach 1430 million US$ in 2023, from 950 million US$ in 2017, according to a new GIR (Global Info Research) study.
