Scope of the Report

This report focuses on the Coating Pretreatment in global market, especially in North America, Europe and Asia-Pacific, South America, Middle East and Africa. This report categorizes the market based on manufacturers, regions, type and application. Currently, Asia-Pacific is the largest market for coating pretreatment, both in terms of volume and value, followed by Europe and North America. Countries such as the U.S., China, and Germany are the major markets of coating pretreatment. Due to the increasing demand on domestic front, rising income levels, and easy access to resources, Asia-Pacific has emerged as the leading market of coating pretreatment. South America, especially Brazil, has also emerged as a key market for coating pretreatment manufacturers. Not only is the demand for coating pretreatment expected to be strong in Brazil, but its proximity to the U.S. makes it an emerging market for setting up production facilities.

Stringent government regulations in the U.S. and Europe, especially to reduce air pollution, will trigger the need for adopting new, low-pollution coating technologies. The chromate free pretreatment coating are nowadays used as a substitute of chromate-based pretreatment due to its environmental friendly nature. It also adheres to the regulations of REACH and other institutions. It is the fastest-growing market among all types of coating pretreatment in Europe and North America. It is used for pretreatment of aluminum and light alloys. The growth is mainly attributed to its ecofriendly nature as these are based on titanium and zirconium chemistries, and they are less harmful and eco-friendly in nature.

The worldwide market for Coating Pretreatment is expected to grow at a CAGR of roughly 5.8% over the next five years, will reach 5350 million US$ in 2023, from 3830 million US$ in 2017, according to a new GIR (Global Info Research) study.
