Commercial Boilers are pressurized systems that burn combustible fuel or use electricity to heat water that is used to provide heating in your building.

Scope of the Report:

Inside the boiler, the burners or electric coils generate heat that is transferred to the water by the heat exchanger. The process creates either hot water or steam, depending on the type of boiler. The hot water or steam is circulated via pipes throughout your commercial facility. The water or steam enters radiators or other components that disperse the heat providing the heating you need to keep your indoor spaces comfortable.

The worldwide market for Commercial Boiler is expected to grow at a CAGR of roughly xx% over the next five years, will reach 12000 million US$ in 2023, from 12000 million US$ in 2017, according to a new GIR (Global Info Research) study.
