Abstracts

According to our (Global Info Research) latest study, the global Comprehensive Motorcycle Insurance market size was valued at US$ 18554 million in 2025 and is forecast to a readjusted size of US$ 26273 million by 2032 with a CAGR of 5.1% during review period.

Comprehensive motorcycle insurance is a comprehensive insurance product that covers various two-wheeled or three-wheeled motorcycles. It typically extends beyond mandatory traffic accident liability insurance or basic liability insurance, covering both the vehicle itself and third-party liability risks. Its coverage generally includes third-party personal injury or property damage caused by traffic accidents, vehicle collision damage, theft, fire, natural disasters, and, in some products, driver personal injury protection and roadside assistance services. Through a risk transfer mechanism, this insurance provides economic compensation for individual users, food delivery riders, logistics riders, and commercial fleets, and is one of the most frequently used sub-categories within the motor vehicle insurance system.

The long-term prospects for comprehensive motorcycle insurance show a steady growth trend, primarily driven by the continued increase in motorcycle ownership in emerging markets, the rapid popularization of electric two-wheelers, and the expansion of the urban on-demand delivery industry. Especially in Southeast Asia, India, China, and Africa, motorcycles remain a major means of transportation and production, and insurance penetration rates are still at a low to medium level, indicating significant room for improvement. Simultaneously, stricter regulations, higher road traffic accident rates, and the increasing proportion of fleet operations are driving growth in demand for commercial insurance. Furthermore, digital insurance platforms (InsurTech) enable more precise insurance pricing and further expand market coverage through usage-based insurance (UBI), real-time risk monitoring, and connected vehicle data. In the future, the industry will upgrade from the traditional 'vehicle claims-based insurance' model to a 'risk management + data pricing + service ecosystem' model.
