Abstracts

According to our (Global Info Research) latest study, the global Contact Center as a Service market size was valued at USD 34660 million in 2023 and is forecast to a readjusted size of USD 46550 million by 2030 with a CAGR of 4.3% during review period.

Contact center as a service (CCaaS) solutions offer similar functional capabilities to those of on-premises contact center infrastructure, but there are key differences. With CCaaS, connectivity to other cloud-based applications may be easier, consumption is paid for via monthly subscription, and there is a stronger focus on service capabilities. Functions and abilities that organizations consider when reviewing their contact center requirements include:

- Automatic call distribution (ACD) and interactive voice response (IVR).
- Universal routing and queuing of voice and internet channels
- A chatbot capability to support self-service and assisted-service interactions and transactions.
- Proactive contact, including outbound dialing and SMS, as well as push text and email notifications.
- Access to customer data
- Support for virtual operations, remote agents and subject matter experts
- Customer relationship tracking, management applications and operational support applications.

The Global Info Research report includes an overview of the development of the Contact Center as a Service industry chain, the market status of Telecom & IT (Onshore Outsourcing, Offshore Outsourcing), BFSI (Onshore Outsourcing, Offshore Outsourcing), and key enterprises in developed and developing market, and analysed the cutting-edge technology, patent, hot applications and market trends of Contact Center as a Service.
