Scope of the Report:

This report focuses on the Container Handling Equipment in global market, especially in North America, Europe and Asia-Pacific, South America, Middle East and Africa. This report categorizes the market based on manufacturers, regions, type and application. The diesel based equipment segment is expected to hold the largest market share in 2017 due to the efficient power delivery, low fuel costs, and inadequate/insufficient electric infrastructure at small and medium terminals. Also, the stringent emission regulations for NOx, PM, and CO2 by the US EPA and European Union have prompted equipment manufacturers to offer fuel-efficient equipment with lower emissions. Hence, equipment manufacturers are focusing on the development and sale of electric and hybrid equipment.

The automated stacking crane (ASC) market is expected to grow at the fastest rate from 2017 to 2025. The growing demand for automation at port terminals across the globe is one of the key reasons for the growth of this market segment. These cranes are capable of picking up, placing, and stacking containers automatically leading to increased productivity and container throughput. Few port terminals such as Thamesport (UK), PSA (Singapore), and Container Terminal Altenwerder (Germany) have increased their automation levels using these cranes. Thus, the growing demand for greenfield port terminals with high reliability and efficiency would drive the ASC market in the coming years.

The worldwide market for Container Handling Equipment is expected to grow at a CAGR of roughly 4.2% over the next five years, will reach xx million US$ in 2023, from xx million US$ in 2017, according to a new GIR (Global Info Research) study.
