Crawler crane wire rope is a wire rope specially used for the load-bearing and traction system of crawler cranes. It is woven from multiple high-strength steel wires and has excellent tensile strength, wear resistance and fatigue resistance. This wire rope is used for the lifting, lowering, traction and other functions of the crane to ensure stable operation under heavy load conditions. Since crawler cranes are often used in heavy-duty operating environments such as construction and ports, the wire rope needs to have high durability and safety to cope with harsh working conditions.
