Abstracts

The global Culinary Herbs and Spices market size is expected to reach $ 27776 million by 2032, rising at a market growth of 4.8% CAGR during the forecast period (2026-2032).

In 2025, global production of culinary herbs and spices reached 4,850,000 tons, with an average selling price of USD 4,200 per ton, total production capacity of 5,300,000 tons, and an average gross margin of 34%.

Culinary herbs and spices are natural plant-based ingredients derived from leaves, stems, seeds, fruits, roots, or bark, used to enhance the flavor, aroma, and taste of food. These products are available in fresh, dried, whole, or ground forms and are widely used in home cooking, foodservice, and food processing industries, forming a fundamental component of global culinary traditions and seasoning systems.

The global culinary herbs and spices market is experiencing steady growth, driven by population growth, upgrading food consumption, and the spread of diverse culinary cultures. Emerging markets continue to show rising demand for standardized and packaged spices, while mature markets place greater emphasis on product quality, traceability, and natural attributes. Overall, competition focuses on raw material supply stability, processing and blending capabilities, brand strength, and the establishment of global distribution networks.

This report studies the global Culinary Herbs and Spices production, demand, key manufacturers, and key regions.

This report is a detailed and comprehensive analysis of the world market for Culinary Herbs and Spices and provides market size (US$ million) and Year-over-Year (YoY) Growth, considering 2025 as the base year. This report explores demand trends and competition, as well as details the characteristics of Culinary Herbs and Spices that contribute to its increasing demand across many markets.

Highlights and key features of the study

Global Culinary Herbs and Spices total production and demand, 2021-2032, (Kiloton)

Global Culinary Herbs and Spices total production value, 2021-2032, (USD Million)

Global Culinary Herbs and Spices production by region & country, production, value, CAGR, 2021-2032, (USD Million) & (Kiloton), (based on production site)
