Abstracts

The customized premixes market, based on application, has been segmented into beverages, dairy, cereals, bakery & confectionery, nutrition products, dietary supplements, and others which include processed foods such as soups, ready-to-eat, condiments, and fats & oils. The beverage segment in customized premixes is the largest and fastest-growing segment in the customized premixes market, followed by bakery & confectionery and nutrition products. The dominance of this application can be attributed to the increasing demand of beverages such as sports drinks, energy drinks, fruit juices, vitamin water, herbal drinks, near water beverages, isotonic beverages, and other noncarbonated beverages which are highly fortified products.

Scope of the Report:

This report focuses on the Customized Premixes in global market, especially in North America, Europe and Asia-Pacific, South America, Middle East and Africa. This report categorizes the market based on manufacturers, regions, type and application.

The customized premixes market, based on nutrient, has been segmented into vitamins, minerals, amino acids, nutraceuticals, and nucleotides. The vitamins segments is the largest as well as the fastest-growing segment for customized premixes. The high growth of industrial consumption of vitamins is driving this market which can be largely attributed to their deficiency in everyday diets of consumers and also due to the fact that they cannot be synthesized by the human body.

The worldwide market for Customized Premixes is expected to grow at a CAGR of roughly 5.6% over the next five years, will reach xx million US$ in 2023, from xx million US$ in 2017, according to a new GIR (Global Info Research) study.
