Dental Cordless Curing Light is a device used in dental treatment, usually used to light-cure tooth filling materials. When a dentist fills a tooth, a cavity or crack in the tooth is filled with a material called a composite. The composite needs to harden quickly after being irradiated by the dentist using a special curing light. The traditional light curing machine needs to be connected to the power cord before it can be used, while the wireless curing light machine is powered by a built-in battery and does not need to be connected to the power line, making it more portable and flexible.
