Abstracts

Dental floss is essentially a thread, which removes food trapped between teeth and removes the film of bacteria that forms there before it has a chance to harden into plaque. Toothbrush bristles alone cannot clean effectively between these tight spaces and hence, the need for dental floss arises.

Scope of the Report:

This report focuses on the Dental Floss in global market, especially in North America, Europe and Asia-Pacific, South America, Middle East and Africa. This report categorizes the market based on manufacturers, regions, type and application.

The dental floss market is witnessing a huge demand for dental floss from consumers as a means to prevent interdental diseases such as gingivitis and gum decay. The high rate of spending on oral or dental care products to prevent and avoid dental surgeries and reduce healthcare costs and the increasing knowledge of preventive health measures and growing disposable income, will increase the purchase volume of dental floss, which will subsequently propel the growth of the market.

The increasing expenditure on dental care will drive the growth prospects for the global dental floss market for the next four years. The increasing focus of consumers on exploring new treatment options coupled with the availability of preventive healthcare products will be a major factor responsible for the increasing expenditure on dental care, which, in turn, will drive the demand for dental floss on a global level.

The global dental floss market is highly competitive and diversified due to the presence of a large number of regional and international manufacturers across the globe. The regional manufacturers find it increasingly difficult to compete against the international manufacturers especially in terms of product quality, technology, and pricing. Product innovation, positioning, mergers and acquisitions, and strategies to engage consumers are some of the additional factors that will intensify competition among the market players. To sustain and survive in the competitive market, manufacturers have the need to distinguish their products and services with a clear and unique value proposition.

The worldwide market for Dental Floss is expected to grow at a CAGR of roughly xx% over the next five years, will reach xx million US$ in 2023, from xx million US$ in 2017, according to a new GIR (Global Info Research) study.
