Abstracts

Dental restoration is the rehabilitation and restoration of the oral and dental tissues lost as a result of disease, inheritance, or trauma. The restoration is required to fulfil the aesthetic, psychological, and functional needs of the patient that demands co-ordination of multi-professional teams within and outside of dentistry. Various materials that are used in restorative dentistry include dental amalgams, dental cements, dental composites, dental ceramics and dental liners. These materials can be used across different branches of dentistry like prosthodontics, periodontics, and endodontics.

Scope of the Report:

This report studies the Dental Restoration market status and outlook of Global and major regions, from angles of players, countries, product types and end industries; this report analyzes the top players in global market, and splits the Dental Restoration market by product type and applications/end industries.

Dental caries is the destruction of dental hard tissues resulting in the decalcification of inorganic constituents and the dissolution of organic components and is caused mainly by the acid produced by microorganisms from the fermentation of dietary carbohydrates. It is one of the major reasons for the oral diseases. Owing to factors such as the changing lifestyles of people, the increase in consumption of sugars, the reduced intake of fluorides, and the lack of national programs to restrict oral diseases, the frequency of dental caries is increasing rapidly especially in the low and middle-income countries, subsequently boosting the growth of the dental restoration market. Cosmetic dentistry is usually used to address any dental procedure that improves the appearance of an individual's teeth, gums, oral hygiene and primarily deals with the aesthetics, alignment, and the overall appearance of one's smile. According to this market research report, the increasing demand for advanced cosmetic dental procedures will be one of the major trends that will gain traction in the dental restoration market in the coming years.

The dental restoration market appears to be competitive due to the presence of several established manufacturers. The manufacturers in this market are focused on the development of innovative, flexible applications, and user-friendly products. To improve their market positions, the established manufacturers are making investments towards product development and the expansion of their businesses to other regions.

The global Dental Restoration market is valued at xx million USD in 2017 and is expected to reach xx million USD by the end of 2023, growing at a CAGR of xx% between 2017 and 2023.

The Asia-Pacific will occupy for more market share in following years, especially in China, also fast growing India and Southeast Asia regions.

North America, especially The United States, will still play an important role which cannot be ignored. Any changes from United States might affect the development trend of Dental Restoration.
