According to our (Global Info Research) latest study, the global Direct Insurance Carrier market size was valued at USD million in 2022 and is forecast to a readjusted size of USD million by 2029 with a CAGR of % during review period. The influence of COVID-19 and the Russia-Ukraine War were considered while estimating market sizes.

Direct insurance carriers refer to insurance companies that sell insurance products directly to customers, typically through the internet or over the phone. These companies do not use intermediaries, such as agents or brokers, to sell their insurance products. Instead, customers can purchase insurance policies online or through a customer service representative and can manage their policy directly through the insurance company's website or mobile app. Direct insurance carriers offer a range of insurance products, including auto insurance, home insurance, life insurance, and health insurance.
