According to our (Global Info Research) latest study, the global Dish Washers market size was valued at USD 911.6 million in 2023 and is forecast to a readjusted size of USD 1356.2 million by 2030 with a CAGR of 5.8% during review period.

A dishwasher is a mechanical device for cleaning dishware and cutlery automatically. Unlike manual dishwashing, which relies largely on physical scrubbing to remove soiling, the mechanical dishwasher cleans by spraying hot water, typically between 45 and 75 °C (110 and 170 °F), at the dishes, with lower temperatures used for delicate items.

Although dishwasher has been a revolutionising product from consumer appliance industry, it is still considered a luxury item in most of the developing countries. The market research however estimates that growing middle-class populations in developing countries can play a key role in ramping up adoption of dishwashers in the near future. While US, Canada, and Europe will remain the leading markets, sales will remain sluggish on account of long replacement cycles. Emerging economies, where a large consumer base is yet to buy their first dishwasher, will emerge as a lucrative market for manufacturers.

The Global Info Research report includes an overview of the development of the Dish Washers industry chain, the market status of Residential (Built in Dishwasher, Freestanding Dishwasher), Commercial (Built in Dishwasher, Freestanding Dishwasher), and key enterprises in developed and developing market, and analysed the cutting-edge technology, patent, hot applications and market trends of Dish Washers.
