Abstracts

An advanced distribution management system is a combination of DMS, SCADA, and OMS along with the control room applications on a single, secure platform having a single user interface.

Scope of the Report:

This report focuses on the Distribution Management System in global market, especially in North America, Europe and Asia-Pacific, South America, Middle East and Africa. This report categorizes the market based on manufacturers, regions, type and application. This system basically works in combination with the GIS, the utility's CIS, and IVR system. The system is specifically designed to reduce the financial impact of a power blackout. With the help of this system, power utilities are able to monitor and control the distribution network, thereby enhancing the quality of their services. It also helps in providing a real-time analysis of the operational condition of a power network and provides self-healing capabilities. Ultimately, the advanced distribution management system helps in the proper management of increasing energy consumption, surging energy cost, and power system network instability due to aging.

The worldwide market for Distribution Management System is expected to grow at a CAGR of roughly xx% over the next five years, will reach xx million US$ in 2023, from xx million US$ in 2017, according to a new GIR (Global Info Research) study.
