Abstracts

The education systems worldwide are ushering in an era of online education with greater involvement of technology, hardware, and tools. The acceptance of products such as desktops and interactive whiteboards has helped in spreading awareness and generating interest among the users. Thus, the introduction of document camera is expected to be widely accepted because of its various benefits. Advances in content development technologies is another factor aiding to popularizing the product among schools. Document camera is increasingly being beneficial for making lectures more interactive and comprehensive, mainly for technical education institutions that involve complex studying concepts. However, these cameras are gaining prominence in the K-12 segment as well due to its ability to enhance visual learning. Therefore, this device has great scope for penetration in the education sector as it not only functions as imaging device but aids recording and effective delivery of lectures.

Scope of the Report:

This report focuses on the Document Camera for Smart Classroom in global market, especially in North America, Europe and Asia-Pacific, South America, Middle East and Africa. This report categorizes the market based on manufacturers, regions, type and application.

Due to its low-cost, distance education is increasingly being preferred by students among several countries across the globe. Additionally, distance learning also offers flexible learning opportunities as it is less bound by time and location. In addition to the increasing number of universities offering online courses, the evolution of virtual communication platforms also enables educational institutions to adopt online learning methods such as blended learning. This will result in the adoption of virtual classroom sessions and lecture videos, which, in turn, will spur the demand for document cameras in the coming years.

The market consists of a number of well-diversified international and regional manufacturers and appears to be fragmented. Since the international document camera manufacturers are increasing their footprint in the market, the regional and local manufacturers are finding it extremely difficult to compete with them, especially in terms of features such as product quality, technology, and pricing. An increase in product or service extensions, technological advancements, and M&As will intensify the level of competition in the market. Analysts predict that the international manufacturers will grow inorganically during the predicted period by acquiring regional or local players.

The worldwide market for Document Camera for Smart Classroom is expected to grow at a CAGR of roughly xx% over the next five years, will reach xx million US$ in 2023, from xx million US$ in 2017, according to a new GIR (Global Info Research) study.
