Abstracts

A bulk carrier is a seagoing vessel that is specially designed to transport unpackaged bulk cargo such as grains, coal, ore, and cement in its cargo holds. A dry bulk shipping company such as Golden Ocean Group simply owns a fleet of these ships that it then uses to transport bulk cargo for a customer in exchange for money. As these shipping firms effect the transport of large quantities of these goods across the oceans and between different companies, they are critical to international trade.

SCOPE OF THE REPORT:

This report studies the Dry Bulk Shipping market status and outlook of Global and major regions, from angles of players, countries, product types and end industries; this report analyzes the top players in global market, and splits the Dry Bulk Shipping market by product type and applications/end industries.

The dry bulk shipping industry appears to be quite strong, with slowly increasing global trade volumes.

Time charter rates were broadly lower in the first quarter 2018 compared to the fourth quarter 2017 but this does not appear to be due to lower shipping volume.

The number of Capesize ships in the global fleet is expected to steadily increase over the next few years.

The global Dry Bulk Shipping market is valued at xx million USD in 2017 and is expected to reach xx million USD by the end of 2023, growing at a CAGR of xx% between 2017 and 2023.

The Asia-Pacific will occupy for more market share in following years, especially in China, also fast growing India and Southeast Asia regions.

North America, especially The United States, will still play an important role which cannot be ignored. Any changes from United States might affect the development trend of Dry Bulk Shipping.

Europe also play important roles in global market, with market size of xx million USD in 2017 and will be xx million USD in 2023, with a CAGR of xx%.
