Dry rose wine is a type of wine that is made from red wine grapes, but with a shorter amount of time spent in contact with the grape skins. This shorter contact time leads to a lighter color compared to red wine, and characteristic flavors of fresh strawberries, raspberries, and sometimes other red fruits. Dry rose wine can be made from a variety of grape varieties, including Grenache, Pinot Noir, Syrah, Mourvedre, and Tempranillo, among others. Its light and refreshing character makes it a popular choice during warm weather months, but it is also enjoyed year-round as an aperitif or with light dishes such as salads, seafood, and poultry.
