Abstracts

The global Elder Law Service market size is expected to reach $ 3014 million by 2032, rising at a market growth of 5.5% CAGR during the forecast period (2026-2032).

To address the issues of weak legal awareness, limited access to rights protection, and difficulty in safeguarding the legitimate rights and interests of the elderly under traditional elderly care models, legal services for the elderly have emerged. Since the advent of legal services for the elderly in the early 21st century, my country's aging cause and rights protection field has made significant progress. Currently, legal services for the elderly have evolved into a comprehensive service encompassing wills and inheritance, property guardianship, mediation of alimony disputes, and prevention of illegal fundraising, widely applied in community-based elderly care, institutional elderly care, and family-based elderly care, effectively protecting the legitimate rights and interests of the elderly and improving their quality of life in their later years.

The legal services market for the elderly is currently in a period of rapid expansion, benefiting from population aging, policy support, and technological advancements. The industry needs to address challenges and seize opportunities through the construction of professional teams, technological innovation, cross-sectoral cooperation, and policy guidance. In the future, legal services for the elderly will upgrade towards intelligence, digitalization, and age-friendliness, becoming a core support of the silver economy industrial chain, promoting the construction of a social environment where the elderly have support, care, and enjoyment, and contributing to the high-quality development of China's modern aging cause.
