Abstracts

According to our (Global Info Research) latest study, the global Elderly Care Services market size was valued at US$ million in 2024 and is forecast to a readjusted size of USD million by 2031 with a CAGR of %during review period.

The elderly care service provides care services for the elderly living alone, including institutional care, home care, adult day care, etc

According to United Nations statistics, in 2020, the global population aged 65 and above accounted for 9.3%, of which high-income economies and middle-high-income economies accounted for 18.4% and 10.8% respectively; The proportion of the population aged and above was 28.4%, 23.3%, and 22.8% respectively. China's aging population ranks 63rd, and the proportion of the population aged 65 and over in 2020 is 13.5%, which is higher than the global average of 9.3%. According to the United Nations Population Forecasting Program, it is estimated that the average life expectancy of the global population will reach 81.8 years in 2100, among which the average life expectancy of high-income economies will exceed 90 years, and Japan will reach about 94 years. The aging of the global population will accelerate the growth of the elderly care services market.
