According to our (Global Info Research) latest study, the global Environmental, Social, and Governance (ESG) Advisory market size was valued at US$ 15054 million in 2025 and is forecast to a readjusted size of US$ 27199 million by 2032 with a CAGR of 8.8% during review period.

Environmental, social, and governance (ESG) advisory refers to a range of strategic, compliance, and implementation services provided by professional service firms to businesses, financial institutions, governments, and non-profit organizations. These services aim to help clients systematically identify, manage, disclose, and improve their performance in the three dimensions of environment, society, and governance.

The global ESG advisory services market has experienced significant growth in recent years, driven by a growing awareness among companies, investors, and other stakeholders of the importance of sustainability and responsible business practices. As organizations seek to address environmental and social challenges while ensuring strong governance practices, ESG considerations have become an integral part of corporate strategy and investment decisions. Demand for ESG advisory services is high in regions with strong corporate governance practices, robust financial markets, and a growing interest in sustainability. North America, Europe, and the Asia-Pacific region are the major contributors to the global ESG advisory market. The global ESG advisory services market is expected to continue growing as sustainability and responsible investment become increasingly important considerations for businesses and investors. Regulatory developments, rising stakeholder expectations, and the mainstreaming of ESG considerations will drive organizations to seek expert guidance and consulting support to address the complexities of ESG integration. With the development of ESG reporting standards and frameworks and the improvement of corporate sustainability performance, ESG advisory firms will play a key role in helping organizations implement effective ESG strategies, improve risk management, and create long-term value, while considering environmental and social impacts.
