Abstracts

Flavored milk is made with milk, sugar, colorings, and artificial or natural flavorings. Flavored milk provides the same essential nine nutrients as plain white milk. The demand for flavored milk is expected to increase during the forecast period mainly due to the fact that flavored milk is increasingly being preferred as a drink to be consumed after workout sessions.

Scope of the Report:

This report focuses on the Flavored Milk in global market, especially in North America, Europe and Asia-Pacific, South America, Middle East and Africa. This report categorizes the market based on manufacturers, regions, type and application. In terms of revenue, the long-life flavored milk segment dominated the market. Long-life flavored milk has a shelf life of about six to nine months as they are produced using the ultra-heat treatment (UHT) technique. The main advantage of dairy products produced using the UHT technology is that it can be stored for a longer period without refrigeration.

In terms of geography, the APAC region led The global flavored milk market. The market is expected to grow in the region due to various factors including increasing milk production and the rise in the number of middle-income families in the region. Moreover, the expanding population in the region will also contribute to the growth of this market in APAC over the next few years.

The worldwide market for Flavored Milk is expected to grow at a CAGR of roughly xx% over the next five years, will reach xx million US$ in 2023, from xx million US$ in 2017, according to a new GIR (Global Info Research) study.
