Abstracts

Scope of the Report:

This report focuses on the Flexible Paper Packaging in global market, especially in North America, Europe and Asia-Pacific, South America, Middle East and Africa. This report categorizes the market based on manufacturers, regions, type and application. With changes in demographic factors such as an increase in single-person households and rise in working population, the demand for convenience food and packaged food is growing. This is resulting in the steady growth of this market. The flexible paper packaging segment held the highest share of the global food packaging market. This Americas market will grow moderately during the forecast period because of increased demand for small packs or single-serving packaging. The growing demand for boxboard and containerboard in the food industry will drive the growth of this market. The US will continue to be an important revenue contributor on account of increasing concerns about sustainability among consumers and growing infrastructure of contract packagers.

The worldwide market for Flexible Paper Packaging is expected to grow at a CAGR of roughly xx% over the next five years, will reach xx million US$ in 2023, from xx million US$ in 2017, according to a new GIR (Global Info Research) study.
