Fluorite (also called fluorspar) is the mineral form of calcium fluoride, CaF_2 . It belongs to the halide minerals. It crystallizes in isometric cubic habit, although octahedral and more complex isometric forms are not uncommon.

Scope of the Report:

This report focuses on the Fluorspar in global market, especially in North America, Europe and Asia-Pacific, South America, Middle East and Africa. This report categorizes the market based on manufacturers, regions, type and application.

The hydrofluoric acid segment accounted for the major shares of the fluorspar market. The hydrofluoric acid finds application in the synthesis of fluorocarbons such as CFCs, HCFCs, HFCs, and fluorine-bearing chemicals. Moreover, it is also used as a catalyst in the petroleum industry.

This market study estimates that in terms of geographic regions, APAC will be the major revenue contributor to the fluorspar market throughout the forecast period. The rising demand for fluorspar in several applications such as aluminum production, steelmaking, and hydrofluoric acid production will drive the growth of the fluorspar market in this region.

The worldwide market for Fluorspar is expected to grow at a CAGR of roughly xx% over the next five years, will reach xx million US$ in 2023, from xx million US$ in 2017, according to a new GIR (Global Info Research) study.
