Abstracts

Folding cartons are paper-based container boxes used in the packaging of various durable goods. These are a flexible, cost-effective, lightweight, and durable form of packaging, and find extensive application in the packaging of consumer and industrial goods. In addition, folding cartons are used for packing products of different shapes and sizes. Therefore, the end-user industries for folding cartons include the food industry, healthcare industry, personal and household care industry, and other industries.

Scope of the Report:

This report focuses on the Folding Carton in global market, especially in North America, Europe and Asia-Pacific, South America, Middle East and Africa. This report categorizes the market based on manufacturers, regions, type and application.

A large number of consumers are spending on convenience food items as well as ready to eat (RTE) foods due to the rising standard of living. The demand for folding cartons is increasing around the world due to the increasing purchase volume of packaged food products. The folding carton market is expected to witness growth in the food industry during the estimated period due to the rising availability of products with a long shelf life, attractive carton packaging with aesthetic appeal, and folding cartons with innovative design, shape, and size.

China is one of the leading consumer of folding cartons, which contributes growth toward the folding carton market in APAC. The development of new manufacturing technologies and rising demand for folding carton packaging from the food industry will result in an increased adoption of folding cartons in the region. The folding boxes market will continue to grow in the region throughout the predicted period due to the introduction of active and intelligent packaging with anti-counterfeit technology.

The worldwide market for Folding Carton is expected to grow at a CAGR of roughly xx% over the next five years, will reach xx million US$ in 2023, from xx million US$ in 2017, according to a new GIR (Global Info Research) study.

Market Segment by Manufacturers, this report covers
