Abstracts

The global Food Grade Konjac market size is expected to reach $ 1025.8 million by 2029, rising at a market growth of 6.3% CAGR during the forecast period (2023-2029).

The konjac market is driven by factors such as increasing health awareness among consumers, increasing demand for digestive agents, surge in demand for weight loss agents, and active research and development.

Konjac is a root vegetable that looks like an oddly shaped potato. The plant's bulb — the underground section of the plant – contains glucomannan, a soluble fiber. Soluble fiber absorbs water to produce a gel-like substance, which inhibits digestion. It can aid in the reduction of blood cholesterol and glucose levels. Oats, beans, apples, citrus fruits, carrots, and psyllium all contain soluble fiber.

This report studies the global Food Grade Konjac production, demand, key manufacturers, and key regions.
