Abstracts

Food preservatives are added to food to keep it free from contamination and fresh for a long-time interval between the time of manufacturing and consumption.

Scope of the Report:

This report focuses on the Food Preservatives in global market, especially in North America, Europe and Asia-Pacific, South America, Middle East and Africa. This report categorizes the market based on manufacturers, regions, type and application.

The artificial food preservatives segment dominated the food preservatives market and accounted for a major part of the overall market share. High effectiveness of artificial food preservatives in retaining the freshness for long periods of time is the major factor responsible for the growth of this segment in the global market.

The food preservatives market in Asia-Pacific is projected to grow at the highest CAGR during the forecast period. The major drivers for the growth of the food preservatives market include the demand for convenience foods and food products with a longer shelf-life.

In this market study, analysts have estimated the beverages segment to dominate the food preservatives market during the forecast period. Increasing usage of food preservatives in alcoholic beverages like wine and beer is propelling the market growth of this segment in the food preservatives market.

The worldwide market for Food Preservatives is expected to grow at a CAGR of roughly xx% over the next five years, will reach xx million US$ in 2023, from xx million US$ in 2017, according to a new GIR (Global Info Research) study.
