Abstracts

Frozen dessert is the generic name for desserts made by freezing liquids, semi-solids, and sometimes even solids. They may be based on flavored water (shave ice, ice pops, sorbet, snow cones, etc.), on fruit purées (such as sorbet), on milk and cream (most ice creams), on custard (frozen custard and some ice creams), on mousse (semifreddo), and others.

Scope of the Report:

This report focuses on the Frozen Desserts in global market, especially in North America, Europe and Asia-Pacific, South America, Middle East and Africa. This report categorizes the market based on manufacturers, regions, type and application.

The gelato segment accounted for the major shares of this market. It is similar to ice cream which has a custard base with a high proportion of milk and a lower proportion of cream and eggs. It is served at a slightly warmer temperature when compared with ice cream.

The hypermarkets, supermarkets and convenience stores accounted for the highest revenue share. The growth of the organized retail sector in developed and developing countries is the main reason behind increasing purchase of packaged products.

Whereas, convenience stores are a popular choice among urban population in developed countries, which will positively influence the frozen desserts market share and size in the forecast period.

The worldwide market for Frozen Desserts is expected to grow at a CAGR of roughly xx% over the next five years, will reach xx million US$ in 2023, from xx million US$ in 2017, according to a new GIR (Global Info Research) study.
