Abstracts

Fruit spreads are a kind of spreads made from fruit as raw material.

Scope of the Report:

This report focuses on the Fruit Spreads in global market, especially in North America, Europe and Asia-Pacific, South America, Middle East and Africa. This report categorizes the market based on manufacturers, regions, type and application.

Supermarkets and hypermarkets are the most popular distribution channels for fruit spreads and accounted for the largest market share. The growth of organized retail in developed and developing economies is the major driving force behind the growth of this market segment. Factors like increasing urbanization and easy convenience of the supermarket and hypermarket retail formats will lead to further sales of fruits spreads through these retail chains.

Europe occupied the largest portion of the global market for fruit spreads and will continue its dominance throughout the forecast period. France, Germany, and the Netherlands account for almost 50% of the total imports in Europe. The sales of fruit spreads have slumped in the UK as consumers are adopting new varieties made up of various superfruits. Many consumers prefer having fruit spreads daily and use them in various dishes like smoothies, salads, and desserts. The most popular flavors in Europe are red fruits, especially strawberries, citrus fruits, raspberries, and tropical fruits such as apricots, and cherries. The growing shift toward seasonally supplied products is likely to benefit the fruit spreads market in the European region.

The worldwide market for Fruit Spreads is expected to grow at a CAGR of roughly xx% over the next five years, will reach xx million US$ in 2023, from xx million US$ in 2017, according to a new GIR (Global Info Research) study.
