According to our (Global Info Research) latest study, the global GenAI Smartphone market size was valued at US$ 106219 million in 2025 and is forecast to a readjusted size of US$ 399660 million by 2032 with a CAGR of 21.4% during review period.

GenAI Smartphone is advanced smartphones that integrate generative artificial intelligence capabilities at the operating system and hardware level, enabling on-device or hybrid cloud-based generation of text, images, voice, and multimodal content. These devices embed large language models and AI agents directly into the user experience, transforming smartphones from application-centric tools into context-aware, interactive intelligent terminals.

In 2025, global GenAI Smartphone production reaches approximately 185.4 million units, with an average global market price of around US$558 per unit, underscoring their rapid penetration into the high-value segment of the smartphone market.

Upstream, the GenAI Smartphone industry relies on AI-capable mobile SoCs, advanced logic foundries, high-bandwidth DRAM, NAND flash, image sensors, and power-efficient displays. Software platforms, operating systems, and foundation model providers form a critical intangible layer. Downstream, OEMs distribute devices through consumer retail, telecom operators, and enterprise channels, while cloud providers, AI service partners, and application developers extend device functionality and monetization across productivity, imaging, and communication use cases.

Typical GenAI Smartphone single production lines deliver approximately 3–6 million units annually, depending on automation level, product complexity, and flagship versus mid-range configuration.
