Abstracts

The lighting industry includes general lighting, automotive lighting, and backlighting. General lighting is based on fixed light source installations, which deliver a practical or aesthetic lighting effect. CFLs, LFLs, HID lights, and LEDs are some of the major general lighting products.

Scope of the Report:

This report focuses on the General Lighting in global market, especially in North America, Europe and Asia-Pacific, South America, Middle East and Africa. This report categorizes the market based on manufacturers, regions, type and application. One trend in the market is growing number of households and urbanization. The rapid urbanization worldwide, particularly in emerging economies, is leading to the increasing demand for lighting devices from a growing number of households. The residential segment is one of the major contributors to the growing demand for lighting devices. One driver in the market is the declining manufacturing cost of LEDs. The manufacturing cost of LEDs has declined since 2012 and will continue to decline during the forecast period. This is mainly because of the declining ASP of chips and components used in the manufacturing process of LED devices. The decline in the manufacturing cost of LEDs is leading to a decrease in the initial installation cost of LED lamps and fixtures.

One challenge in the market is high average cost per LED fixture. Though the total cost of owning LED lamps and fixtures is low compared with traditional incandescent and halogen bulbs, the high initial cost acts as a hindrance. The total cost of installation includes the cost of LED luminaires and labor cost. In addition, consumers who install smart lighting fixtures require a huge amount of money for the Internet of Things (IoT) infrastructure.

The worldwide market for General Lighting is expected to grow at a CAGR of roughly xx% over the next five years, will reach xx million US$ in 2023, from xx million US$ in 2017, according to a new GIR (Global Info Research) study.
